

In the the exclusion zone

For almost a year we are living in a combat zone, in that exclusion zone, where no one wants to go and see with our eyes, what is happening to us, and we are trying to survive in this difficult situation. Our brothers and sisters, relatives and close friends and supporters, almost all shared their and others', because it is very difficult to understand who is right and who is not. And some of the people close to us disappeared without any signs of life, were seriously injured or even completely lost in this senseless prolonged war ...

A recent trip to Western Ukraine and absolutely convinced us that most of our colleagues even do not understand and do not care about the fact that there is a real war continue to kill people that we absolutely live without hope that one day return to their homes, work places on his land where we were born and raised, were those we have now. We are Ukrainian, heart and soul, ready to continue to prove the world that we just are. And do not we write off, we must not forget that we are and want this same quiet, trouble-free life, which is in colleagues from other regions. We do not ask for help, but do not isolate us in a timely Zone where the world is divided into before and after the roadblocks.

So sometimes strange to hear when the conferences, who discussed the problem of how and what to eat for a year. And it is comparable to what is happening in the area ATO where we live and work. Why still continue not zamichaty that Ukraine is not all people can afford something to eat even a standard list of what is in the consumer basket. Zas something to say about that when the leaders of the highest branches, coming to the zone ATO say one thing, instilling hope in people and do another. Is it possible, in general, to align all at the same scale, without taking into account the living conditions, work and simply human existence in the area ATO and abroad.

I would like to remind everyone knows the phrase heroine of the film "Slave of Love": "People - you animals!". So we will not spodoblyatysya is what we are constantly returns history. We appeal to all our readers, authors, friends and concerned people to join the discussion in the pages of our magazine issues today, of what we brought metamorphosis of our country's socio-economic policy and that the human factor, which is still trying not pay attention.

So, despite the fact that we are alienated from normal, full life, we try to live and prove that the spiral of history repeated, and that we have time to fix, understand their mistakes and build a new and better direction of even through detailed discussions and publications in the magazine, the future generation will live better than we do now and learn some lessons from history.

Thank you to everyone who was and is with us all this difficult time. With this support we will win and all will be well with us!
