

From the year of Pig to year of Rat with certain achievements!

Next year a magazine will already mark its 10 annual anniversaries from the beginning of output first to the number. It is much or not enough? Presumably it is follows to decide our readers. But, if it is measure the existence of some similar editions for years, then it is possible to assert that we went after and outdove some of them, which already dripped in nonexistence. It is having regard that the year of Rat promises to us new scientific achievements, successes, interesting and bright changes to the best, however we are proud of those achievements that brought a passing year us, and led to positive of our activity very important results which allow with definiteness to look forward.

Probably, our readers already get attention to changes in initial information of our magazine, in obedience to the decision of the October collegiums of Ministry of education and science of Ukraine, which included and confirmed regulations of this edition, which is now included in "List of scientific professional editions of Ukraine" which is in the category of "B". Therefore we sincerely thanks: 1) to all members (domestic and foreign) editorial boards of magazine, which provided implementation of all formal requirements in relation to passing to the category of "B"; 2) to our readers and authors which allowed to heave up the highly professional articles the level of magazine on the higher stage; 3) to all reviewers, conscious and irresponsible opponents which was attached to the improvement of composition of the articles of magazine, its professional filling and aspiration, and compel us to be in a permanent creative search in relation to the improvement of the editorial activity; 4) colleagues from other science and practical, economic editions, which supported us by an equal, whimsical competition at the market of educational, professional and scientific services, and did not give to lose the that rate of movement, that we collected the first to the number magazine from the beginning of output; 5) our opponents and members of the opposition, which toward us only negative reviews and inattentive attitude and compel us more thoroughly and to be perfection and to prepare the next barriers, that, implicitly, constantly appear during our forward movement; and also 6) all our supporters which are always ready to offer hand to us help and to support in difficult times with anything! Surely, we do not plan to stand in place, but aspire to permanent self-perfection and invite all accept the direct participating in this activity, attached to the submission of new scientific and professional achievements.

And let the next year of Rat bring to all us only sufficiency, realization of all our hopes and desire to use our science and practical, pedagogical potential not only on the self benefit but also for further progressive development of our country. Let finally will come to all us all the peace, calmness and stability in our house.
